

Andrew Milano

amilano@disputesoft.com
301.251.6313

At DisputeSoft, Andrew works as a Marketing Associate, responsible for assisting with various marketing, HR, and administrative tasks. He researches and generates content for DisputeSoft's website, maintains and expands the firm's CRM program, and manages DisputeSoft's social media initiatives.

Andrew recently graduated from the University of Maryland at College Park with a B.A. in Communications, specializing in Public Relations. Throughout college, he focused on public relations, writing, and general business coursework. Andrew involved himself in several internships and work experiences that allowed him to further develop his writing, social media, and marketing skills.

EDUCATION

B.A., University of Maryland